

Ferno the Fire Dragon - Adam Blade (Beast Quest 1)

Tom could hear another roar building in the dragon's throat. He saw it's huge, open mouth above him.

He froze.

Ferno's eyes narrowed to fierce slits.

With a roar, he blasted an enormous fireball from his mouth.

Tom threw himself down and held up his shield.

The fireball hit the wooden shield with such force that Tom staggered back.

Flames hissed angrily around the edges of the shield, singeing the hairs on Tom's arms.

The heat burned Tom's throat as he gulped for air through the thick, black smoke.

Extract taken from Robin Hood and Maid Marion.

And then they fought. They clashed, they thrust, they parried, they twirled. Marian drew blood from Robin's cheek, and that inflamed his anger. He fought back with all his strength, but she was nimble footed and skilled; even so, she took a cut above her eye.

Extract taken from Robin Hood and Little John.

The fight went on for half an hour. Each smote the other and gave some hard blows. The giant man stepped forwards to give Robin a furious blow but that nimble fellow dodged it, and coming back at the giant, he dealt him such a buffet that the stranger reeled.