

English Writing, Reading and GPS - Our Topic: Narrative Poetry Narrative poems are longer poems that tell a story. This week we are going to read and enjoy some modern ones and also some classic narrative poems. This is the last week of term so you can soon relax.

Monday	Roald Dalh Revolding Rhymes We are going to read Roald Dahl's version of Little Red Riding Hood. Please start by reading the poem. You can also enjoy an animated version of it here. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Y3uVQIhSYfY&safe=active  There are some questions to go with this poem. Have a go at them.
Tuesday	The Jabberwocky by Lewis Carroll Last week, we read and wrote some nonsense poetry (The Ning Nang Nong). The Jabberwocky is also a famous nonsense poem written by Lewis Carroll. The Jabberwocky has some strange, made-up words in it but it also tells a story. Don't worry if you don't know what all the words mean (you aren't supposed to). Just try to get a sense of the story and enjoy the sound of the unusual words. <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Watch these clips to hear the poem The Jabberwocky. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Q_Um3787fSY&safe=active (read by Benedict Cumberbatch) https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=iBFSiGDZC-Y&safe=active (read by Michael Rosen) <ol style="list-style-type: none">2. Now have a go at reading the poem yourself. Don't worry if you find a few words tricky. Maybe follow the poem through when you listen to the two you tube clips.

3. Think about the story that is told by The Jabberwocky. Have a go at writing a summary of the story. If you have time you could also create some pictures of different scenes.

(Bit of help for parents - it is a tricky poem but it is about a father and son. The father warns the son about the dangerous Jabberwocky. The son goes out with his sword and kills the Jabberwocky, chopping off its head and bringing the head home. The father is really pleased with his son.)

Wednesday

The Snail and the Whale by Julia Donaldson

An animated version of this is free to view on BBC iPlayer. While you are watching, can you pick out the rhyming words?

Or if you can't access the BBC clip, here is a you tube clip.

There are some questions for you to complete after you have heard the poem. There are quite a lot of questions so complete as many as you have time for and don't worry if you don't do all of them. You can re-watch any of the clips to help you answer the questions.

Thursday

Forgiven by A. A Milne

Have you ever collected insects in the garden? This is a poem about a child who keeps a beetle in a matchbox, but his Nanny accidentally lets it out! (AA Milne also wrote the Winnie the Pooh stories).

Read the poem and follow it through with this you tube clip.
